In the Dog-House Now
Corn for Cardinals
The Hissing Meter

Sure-Thing Bet
According to the AP item in yesterday's edition the East St. Louis police who went to raid a certain game carried a bet of their own which had better odds than anything in the hands of the gamblers they were raiding.

There was a guard dog patrolling the entrance. The police brought hamburger with them. "Pass, friends," said the dog. What the gamblers said to Man's Best Friend later when returning him to the dog-house wasn't reported.

Neither did AP report how the police knew there was a dog at the door and arrived bearing gifts... if the police hadn't been there before

For the Birds
Our piece the other day about the troubles of a bird feeding-station brought us advice promptly. It came from half a dozen quarters — but the advice was the same.

What we had reported was that sunflower seed was supposed to be an ideal diet for cardinals because they loved it and the sparrows, scourge of every feeding-station, had a hard time cracking it. But our backyard laboratory test over a couple of years showed that the sparrows, rendered desperate and inventive by the disappearance of the common horse, have developed a penchant for cracking and eating sunflower seed in prodigious amounts. Not daring to risk combat with the powerful cardinal and his murderous beak on the narrow platform of the feeding-station, the sparrows skillfully scatter the seed over a wide area on the ground — and everybody takes his luncheon picnic style, the cardinal included.

Now folks tell me that the solution is to feed kernel corn, which the sparrows can't crack. I was promptly advised at the beginning that this is true, and I used some corn the first year. But the sparrows weren't above destroying that which they couldn't eat. They cleaned out the feeder-station then as now — and flew off in a rage.

I had corn all over the yard — and no crowd and no fights at the feeder-station.

This way it's more interesting. And I've yet to see a cardinal, big or he is, catch a sparrow off guard. The cardinal could kill 'em if he could catch 'em... but he can't.

Origin of a Gag
Paul Jones reported in his "All Around the Town" column the other day that when B. E. Green displayed in front of The Star building the velvet-tail rattlesnake which he had killed down home one of the girls in our office slipped a penny in the parking meter — and everybody ran like mad.

I understand she was put up to it by Pod Rogers, manager of our chickens and eggs and fresh fruit and vegetable section of the Circulation Department. Pod was operating off an old gag.

We reported in this column soon after the parking meters were installed that a farmer came to Hope, put a coin in a meter — and then jumped for his life. Said he: "What I minded wasn't the money — it was being hissed at!"

But a penny hiss while looking down at a rattlesnake turns a gag into a riot.

Kiwanians Told Importance of Soil, Water
With the population of the United States increasing at the rate of 7,000 per day and world population at 90,000 per day, it is easy to see that soil and water conservation is of prime importance to us and future generations, George Brown of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service, told the Hope Kiwanis Club at a luncheon meeting Tuesday at Hotel Bayview.

"We have an over-production of most commodities at the present, but as time goes by this may not always be true, and this is a problem that should concern each of us here today," Mr. Brown declared.

"Despite the progress that has been made in recent years in soil and water conservation, we still are losing much valuable top soil. It has been estimated that 50 train loads of rich top soil goes down the Mississippi river each day," the speaker pointed out.

Although Congress set up the Department of Agriculture 90 years ago, the soil conservation branch now operating in every state of the union, is actually only about 35 years old.

Mr. Brown traced the soil and water conservation program down to the local level and told of the work being done in Hempstead county through cooperation of landowners.

Mr. Brown maintains an office at the courthouse where applications are received from landowners desiring soil and water conservation practices be applied to their property.

Tuesday's program was arranged by Kiwanian Carl Roberts.

Old Washington Tavern, Gone With the Winds of Time, May Be Reconstructed as Tourist Attraction on Highway No. 4

This is the battered old Washington Tavern, lodging place on the Old Military Road for figures famous in both Arkansas and Texas history, as it looked 20 years ago when A. H. Washburn photographed it for Hope Star's Arkansas Centennial Edition. The building has been gone for many years now, but W. H. Etter, Jr., of Washington reports that the town has acquired title to the corner lot bordering State Highway No. 4 where the old structure stood, plus adjacent property, and plans to develop a tourist attraction with a replica of the old tavern, which dates back to the early 1800's.

Washington's most famous existing structure is the Civil War State Capitol, which was restored under supervision of the Arkansas Commemorative Commission, and for which Mrs. Roxie Redmond acts as part-time hostess. The Washington restoration work traces back to the ceaseless efforts of Mrs. Charles Moss Williams, noted Washington and Hempstead county historian, who now lives at El Dorado.

And the capitol restoration is already producing tourist results. Since the registration book was opened September 1, 1954, a total of 4,980 persons have stopped off in Washington to go through the historic building. They came from 30 states, Canada, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and Australia.

Firm Stolen Out, Investors Didn't Lose

NORTOLK, Va. (AP) — Despite embezzlements that wrecked Commonwealth Building and Loan Association, none of its 9,000 investors lost a dime.

Their savings accounts in the institution ranged from a few dollars up to $70,000. Ninety-eight per cent of the investors had less than $10,000 in their accounts.

Shortages totaling almost three million dollars were discovered at Commonwealth in December, Minnie Mangum, the association's assistant secretary - treasurer, has pleaded guilty to indictments alleging embezzlement of more than one million dollars. She will be sentenced June 23. Other indictments on which she has not been arraigned, alleged embezzlement of $2,884,000.

The fact that Commonwealth's shareholders did not lose any of their money is attributed to these three factors:

1. Commonwealth maintained reserves of almost $2,200,000, more than double legal requirements.
2. Commonwealth's major assets and liabilities were taken over, at the same time it was placed in receivership, by another Norfolk institution, Home Federal Savings and Loan Association.
3. Commonwealth's contested assets were purchased by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corp., which pitched in $100,000. The insurance corporation is the U. S. government agency that insures up to $10,000 each account in savings and loan associations.

Firestone and Union Accused by Negroes

MEMPHIS (AP) — The Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. and the Memphis local of the Rubber Workers Union were accused yesterday of racial discrimination in job layoffs.

The charge was made in a chancery court suit filed by three Negroes — Firestone employees and members of Local 186, United Rubber, Cork, Linoleum and Plastic Workers of America.

The complainants, who said they also were filing in behalf of fellow Negro employees, contended they have more seniority than than workers kept on the job.

They charged a company and union "conspiracy" against their seniority rights in violation of the collective bargaining agreement and federal and state constitutions.

The Negroes asked that the layoffs be voided and they be paid.

Memorial Day 1956 — America Had Many, Many Brave Men Who Should Be Remembered

By HAL BOYLE
ANY COUNTRY, U. S. A. (AP) — Dialogue under the headstones: George (vintage '18): We'll here it is another Memorial Day. Wonder who'll come?
Jim (vintage '17): Who cares?
Clem (vintage '64): Not me. I'm not expecting visitors.
Charley (vintage '63): Me neither. It's been a long, long, long time for both of us. But restful.
Joe (vintage '43): I'd like to see my folks again.
Frank (vintage '50): I never had no folks—unless you can call an orphan home daddy. But Edith my girl she said she'd never forget. But she only came here once to see me.
Jim: I had folks once a long time ago, but I ran away young, and I wasn't the kind of kid they'd exactly want to remember.
An elderly woman came and knelt above George, prayed a few moments, then waked away, her head down.
George: Stella! When I kissed her goodbye she said if I didn't come back she'd never marry again. That was what? 30 years ago. She looks so old and tired and lonely. Does she really think that's the way I wanted it? If I could only have left her a son.
Four people, an elderly couple and a young couple, came to Joe's headstone, decked it with flowers, and spoke of him lovingly as they sat down on the grass and opened a picnic lunch.
Joe: Mom! Dad! And my kid brother. How long he is! The girl with him must be his wife. Imagine Harry being married. How fast things change—up there.
A delegation from the Sons of the Confederacy arrived, planted a

Baptist Urged to Keep Quiet on Segregation

By ED L. CAMPBELL
KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Southern Baptist Convention was urged today to keep quiet on the racial segregation issue.

Dr. Casper C. Warren of Charlotte, N. C., in a prepared presidential address opening the four-day meet, reminded the convention that two years ago it approved the United States Supreme Court decision banning segregation in public schools. He warned: "Open defiance of the constitutional principle will endanger our foreign mission work throughout 35 areas of the earth and play right into the hands of the Communists, who will welcome the privilege of ridiculing not only our democratic form of government but the type of Christianity which seeks to win the world."

Congress Is Urged to Hike Postal Rates

By MARTHA COLE
WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Post Office Committee called on Congress today to face up to a $1,000-a-minute postal deficit by enacting higher mail rates.

A committee report said the average annual deficit of the Post Office Department is running about $60 million dollars.

"The fact is we are losing $1,000 a minute," the report said, and added:

"The committee recognizes that continued delay in enacting rate boosts will not solve the fiscal problems of the Post Office department."

The committee has approved a bill to raise rates on first, second and third class mail. The increases have been asked by the administration. As recommended by the committee, the boosts would add an estimated 432 million dollars a year to postal revenues.

The committee report on the bill was made available to a reporter today after its filing with the House clerk. It will be published generally later.

House leaders have been silent on the chances of a postal rate increase this year.

But yesterday Rep. McCormack (D-Mass.), majority leader, said preliminary results from a poll among Democratic House members showed "strong feeling" against raising the price of a letter stamp from 3 to 4 cents.

The committee's bill calls for such a raise.

Senate Passage Assures Huge Road Program

By JO HALL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate passage of the highway bill early today assured the nation of mammoth program of road construction aimed at coping with the ever-swelling flow of motor traffic.

Passage came after midnight. Weary senators shouted approval of the measure that would set in motion the greatest peacetime federal building program in history. The Senate finished work on the bill at a session that ran 14 hours and 15 minutes—the longest so far this year.

Before adjourning for a Memorial Day holiday, the Senate named its conferees to meet with those from the House to hammer out a compromise bill.

This was expected to be done without too much difficulty, since both branches are agreed on authorizing a vast expansion of federal funds for roads, along with new gasoline and other taxes to help pay for them.

The legislation will give President Eisenhower a highway program of about the size he has been asking. But Congress last year rejected his plan for financing much of the new spending with special bond issues. Instead, both houses approved taxes designed to do the work on a pay-as-you-build basis.

Key senators who will serve on the Senate-House conference committee said in separate interviews they believed groundwork already had been laid for settling the major difference with the House.

This involves the controversial question of how to divide among the states 25 billion dollars in federal money to be spent on the 40.

Stevenson Ekes Victory in Florida

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson emerged from Florida's Democratic presidential primary today with a close and somewhat hollow victory over Sen. Estes Kefauver.

Florida voters simply didn't care much — and showed it with a small, tight vote — whether they gave the nod to the former Illinois governor or the Tennessee senator as their preference for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Return from 1,680 of the state's 1,778 precincts added up this way: Stevenson 212,217 Kefauver 204,919

In the Republican primary, barren of any real competition, President Eisenhower topped Sen. William F. Knowland of California without trying. Knowland, on his part, made no effort to campaign or win.

GOP results from 1,348 of the 1,778 precincts showed: Eisenhower 37,777, Knowland 1,885.

Stevenson finally wrapped up his squeak — through victory in the early morning hours, in one of the tightest presidential primaries in recent history.

Most of the way the ballot counting was a see-saw affair, with Stevenson up one moment and Kefauver the next.

For Stevenson, the major prize was 22 of the 28 Florida votes at the Democratic National Convention in August. But the voters handed them over with no great outpouring of enthusiasm, and a switch of a new thousand votes could have put most of them in Kefauver's pocket.

Bulletin

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Pat Flaherty, a 20-year-old Chicago tavern owner, gunned his Zink Special to squeak victory today in a wreck-studded 500-mile auto race.

The slim, red-haired Irishman, who finished 10th in last year's Indianapolis Motor Speedway gring, was the sixth of 40 champions who also had won the pole position in the lineup.

Running behind Flaherty were two Californians, Sam Huns of Burbank, in second place, and Don Freeland of Redondo Beach in the third spot.

UN Favors Continued Peace Plan

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — A majority of the U. N. Security Council was committed today in favor of a British proposal to have Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld keep working for peace between the Arabs and Israel.

But the Arabs were dubious and the stand of the Soviet Union, which has a veto, was unknown.

Britain introduced the resolution yesterday after Hammarskjöld reported to the council on his month long mission to the Middle East and the cease-fire pledges he obtained from Israel, Egypt, Jordan, Lebanon and Syria.

Eight of the 11 council members, in three hours of speeches, supported the British proposal fully or in principle. The council adjourned until tomorrow.

Presbyterians Study Plan of Desegregation

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The 168th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. today had before it a broad-based program of desegregation reaching into the home, school and office.

The Committee on Social Action and Action asked the assembly, at the concluding session of a seven-day annual meeting to adopt a report which asserted:

"Nowhere in our land can Negroes, and to a lesser extent other minority persons, escape the indignity of segregation or discrimination in one form or another."

The committee said further that "the community or church that feels it has no problem because there is no present crisis may have an especially difficult problem."

C. R. Hamilton, Aged 61, Dies at His Home

Claude R. Hamilton, aged 61, died at his home late yesterday afternoon. He was a life long resident of Hope and had been in the timber business for a number of years. He was a member of the First Baptist Church and American Legion.

Survivors include his wife, one daughter, Mrs. Howard J. Fleming, Columbus, Ohio; one son, John R. Hamilton of Memphis; one sister, Mrs. Maude Hamilton of Hope and three grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Oakcrest Chapel with the Rev. Jess Hamilton officiating. Burial will be in Memory Gardens.

Gen. Twining and Staff Accept Red Invitation

WASHINGTON (AP) With President Eisenhower's blessing, Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force Chief of staff, today accepted an invitation to attend Russia's Air Force show June 24.

An announcement by Secretary of the Air Force Quarles, said that in addition to authorization from Eisenhower, Twining's visit to the Soviet Union also had been approved by Secretary of State Dulles and Secretary of Defense Wilson.

Twining will be accompanied by several Air Force officers.

But there was no word in the terse announcement that any of the other four members of the Joint Chief of Staff would make the trip.

When word of the invitation to Twining first got out last week top government officials let it be known they would give serious consideration to any bid for the joint chief to visit Russia.

Moscow, however, did not take the hint.

Quarles announcement capped a week of polite fencing in Moscow and Washington.

Twining late Tuesday finally too personal delivery of the formal invitation.

The cautious Russian approach to Twining was made on May 21 when the air attaché of the Soviet Embassy here called on a U. S. Air Force intelligence colonel and told him his superiors in Moscow wanted to invite Twining too the air show.

Twining reported that approach to the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Adm. Arthur W. Radford, and directly to the State Department.

The matter was kept secret until publication of a newspaper story, based on information from United Nations sources, that the Soviets intended to invite all of the U. S. military chiefs.

The administration then later known unofficially that if such an invitation were received it would be given "serious consideration" but that any bid would have to come through acceptable "diplomatic channels."

Mrs. Yocom, 87, Dies at Home in Spring Hill

Mrs. Winnie Ann Yocom, aged 87, a resident of Hempstead for many years, died early Wednesday at her home in Spring Hill.

She is survived by a son, L. C. Yocom, a daughter, Miss Margaret Yocom, a brother, Tom Byron and a sister, Mrs. Bennie Galt, all of Spring Hill.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Thursday at the Spring Hill Baptist Church. Burial, by Henderson-Cornelius, will be in Evening Shade Cemetery.

No Presbyterian Midweek Service

There will be no Mid-Week Service at the Presbyterian Church tonight because Dr. and Mrs. L. T. Lawrence are taking Juniors of the Church on a Retreat.

The Juniors had planned to attend a Conference at Fenciliff this week. It was learned early in the week that the number of registrants for the Conference had reached the limit set by the directors of the Conference. The Retreat was planned to take the place of the Conference for the children of Junior age.

State in Midst of Cotton Chopping

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Crop Reporting Service in its weekly summary yesterday said that cotton chopping is general throughout Arkansas.

Good stands were reported in most areas, but some fields in southern counties need rain to get late cotton started.

Most of the state's rice harvest is planted, the service said.

Senate Passage

600-mile interstate system under both versions of the bill.

The projected 13-year program contemplates an interstate road network to link practically every city of more than 50,000 population with no-intersection, no-stop-light roads. Also planned are by-passes around 50 major cities and inter-loop expressways in some cities.

All but about 7,000 miles of the system will be dual highways of more than two lanes; some will have eight lanes.

The House apportionment formula provides for distributing federal money for the interstate system among the states according to their claim as reported to the federal Bureau of Public Roads.

The Senate formula, accepted 55-27 there yesterday, follows the method used for the interstate aid law. This gives two-thirds weight to a state's population, one-sixth to its area, and one-sixth to its rural road mileage.

Sen. Gore (D-Ten), who sponsored the Senate bill, told a reporter he was certain the conferees would agree to start off the program under the Senate formula.

But he said the compromise bill might include provision for a study by the Public Roads Bureau after five years to determine the actual needs of the states in completing their shares of work on the interstate network. Congress then could readjust the formula in line with this study, he said.

Under both Senate and House versions, Uncle Sam would pay 90 per cent of the cost of the interstate system.

The House bill provides for a $1.1-billion-dollar federal-state spending program over a 13-year period.

The Senate version would be about the same if projected for the same number of years. But it actually totals about 37 billions because its authorizations for the three federal aid road systems other than the interstate run only five years; it carries a 13-year allotment for the interstate project.

The House voted to spend about $14,800,000,000 in new taxes over 16 years to help to finance the federal share of the program. The Senate trimmed this to $14,500,000,000 by softening the impact of a special levy on big trucks.

A penny-a-gallon boost in the federal gasoline tax to 3 cents is calculated to bring in the bulk of the new revenue. But the bill also provides increased levies on tires, tread rubber, trucks, buses and trailers.

The Public Roads Bureau estimates the new taxes, for a typical car owner, would amount to $8.80 a year. But it could run as high as $565 for a five-axle truck.

President in Prayer for Enduring Peace

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, accompanied by three high administration figures, strolled from the White House to a nearby church today to offer Memorial Day prayers for enduring peace.

The President was in conference with Secretary of Defense Wilson, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, and Secretary of the Air Force Quarles at 9 a. m. CST approached — the house he had suggested in his Memorial Day proclamation for concerted prayer for harmony among nations.

The four left the President's office and, barched in bright sunshine, walked together through the White House grounds, across Pennsylvania avenue and Lafayette Square to St. John's Episcopal Church.

There was a small knot of tourists in front of the White House gates as the President came out. One woman exclaimed, "don't he look lovely."

Eisenhower was talking earnestly with Humphrey and gave no recognition to the spectators.

There was no formal service at the church, which was almost deserted when the President and his colleagues entered. He and the others sat in a pew on the right side, about half way from the front.

Safe Looted at Paragould

PARAGOULD, Mo. — A thief or thieves broke into the Earl Kirk, Inc., building last night or early today and used tools inside to smash the hinges of a safe.

The loot from the farm implement firm could not be estimated immediately. Both Kirk, the owner, and the bookkeeper for the company were out of town.

A sledgehammer, hatchet, chisels and other tools that were inside the building also were used to smash a cash register. An estimated $80 to $70 was taken from the cash register.

Sheriff Chester Shirley and Chief of Police Sam Hunt said that they had no clues to the identity of the burglar or burglars.

A cold drink box at a nearby automobile garage and a salvage yard also was smashed open and about $10 was taken. Police believed that there was no connection between the two burglaries.

Dry Weather Gives Relief to Floods

By The Associated Press

Dry, warm weather today hastened the recovery of flooded areas of Indiana and Illinois.

A hot sun began to dry out the silted-up areas of Indianapolis — and thus assured the running of the 500-mile automobile race there tomorrow.

Indianapolis was placed under a state of flood emergency yesterday by Mayor Philip L. Bay. Officials called out more than 2,100 Civil Defense workers and ordered policemen to remain on duty.

The flood troubles of Illinois and Indiana were caused by torrential rains during the weekend, and in some areas again on Monday.

But the skies began to clear today. The Weather Bureau said there was a chance of a few scattered thundershowers in both states, but no general downpours were in sight.

Woman Pleads Guilty to Murder Charge

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Mrs. Mary Ann May, 34, pleaded guilty to second degree murder today and was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary.

Mrs. May originally had been charged with first degree murder in the fatal shooting of her half-sister, Miss Maxine Hendon, 21, in the May home in North Little Rock.

Prosecutor Frank Holt greed to defense attorneys' requests for reduced charge, but he refused to recommend a suspended term.

O. D. Longstreth Jr., defense attorney read affidavits for May, Mrs. May's husband, and Miss Hendon's mother recommending a suspended sentence.

Panel Discussion
Held at Kathleen Mallory Circle Meeting

Mrs. Ed O'Gran was hostess to the Kathleen Mallory W. M. U. Circle Tuesday evening.

The meeting opened with prayer by Mrs. George Thompson, Jr., following the business session conducted by the circle chairman, Mrs. Pod Rogers, reports from the following committee chairman were given: Community Missions, Mrs. Jewel Moore Jr., who reported visits to sick and shut-in and new members of the church; the number of trays and baskets distributed during the month.

Mrs. George Thompson, Stewartship chairman gave a report on the receipts and disbursements of the circle's money. Mrs. Jack Hogg, Circle Advisor, who also serves as Orphanage Chairman accepted all the coupons from the members to be used by the Baptist Orphanage at Monticello to buy silver and dinnerware.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. O'Gran, Program chairman presented the program in the form of a television panel with herself as the moderator. The program was entitled "Onward Christian Soldiers" and concerned the commissions of Southern Baptist Convention. Mrs. Ed Rogers told of the Education Commission in regard to Baptist Colleges and Mrs.

Harold Brents gave a report on the Radio Commission. Mrs. Earl Harvey told of the collection of historical items and documents the Historical Commission is preserving. Mrs. Grady Burton reported that the Christian Life Commission deals with the great issues of minority groups, liquor traffic and peace in today's world. Mrs. Geo. Thompson answered questions the moderator asked concerning the American Baptist Theological Seminary, and Mrs. Jewel Moore told of the Work of the Baptist Brotherhood Commission and also of the Men's Brotherhood of our own Church.

Mrs. Herbert Valentine closed the program with prayer for all of the organizations and for their future growth.

Frosted drinks and cookies were served by the hostess to the members and advisor and two guests, Mrs. Jim James and Mrs. Bill Watson.

Shover Springs Home Demonstration Meeting
The May meeting of Shover Springs Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. Grady Reece with the president, Mrs. Roy Rogers calling the meeting to order at 2 o'clock. There were 14 members to answer the roll call on a time saving practice that I follow in my home making activities.

The creed was read by Mrs. John Hawkins followed with the devotion taken from St. Luke brought by Mrs. George Crews who also offered prayer. The song, "Dixie" was led by Mrs. George Walden.

During the business session it was discussed that the club is planning a bake sale in June, and Mrs. John Hawkins was elected secretary-treasurer to fill the place of Mrs. Arl Fincher.

The demonstration of the club was the refinishing of furniture by the home furnishing leader, Mrs. Joe England. Mrs. Ocie Cook, Home Management leader gave a few steps in, "Every Motion Counts."

The ladies brought gifts to be sent to the Crippled Children's Home, and the hostess served sandwiches, cake and iced drinks to those present.

The June meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Joe England.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I have a small but annoying problem. My girl friend belongs to that unrestrained adolescent set known as "rock 'n' roll" radicals. I have no objection to her, or anyone else, listening to such music (?) as long as I'm nowhere in the vicinity when it's playing. My problem is that every time I go to her house she is constantly twisting the radio dial in untiring efforts to keep such savagery on the air.

I'm evidently one of the "oddi" teen-agers of the day, but nevertheless, as far as I'm concerned, rock 'n' roll music sounds like something out of deefia. Africa (with apologies to Africa). My friend is sensitive, so I must get around the problem without blowing my top as I would like to do. I can sum my whole problem up in just one little word: Help!

Charley: I don't know what happened to the Sons of the Grand Army of the Republic this year, Johnny Red, but your side remembered you.

Clem: Why shouldn't they, Yankee? Who do you think won the war? But it was a mighty turrible short speech.

George (musingly): wars and speeches. Speeches and wars. I wonder if we had it to do over again, whether we'd—

Jim (testily): Had what to do over again? All I did was to get kicked by a mule in a training camp in Missouri. All my buddies thought it was funny, until I keeled over. I never even had a chance to laugh.

George: I was crawling through some barbed wire near Chateau-Thierry when a Hun sniper — Clem: I was crying for water in a Yankee prison. I had the fever bad. Suddenly I was taken with a coughing fit and —

Charley: I was thirsty, too, Red, on that third day at Getysburg when I lifted my head, and a bullet came and —

Joe: I wanted wings an I was guiding a bomber over Germany when we ran into a flak burst, and — we I won my second pair.

Frank: I was in the Marines, just turned 20, when we landed in Korea. Didn't even have time to hate anybody. Five minutes after we started up the first hill a mortar hit a my feet and — Aw, who cares now? Where's Edith? She was only 18 when she promised she'd always... Couldn't she come just this once?

Charley: Never mind, son. You'll get used to it. Anyway, maybe she misses you in ways you don't even now.

Frank: But Edith was the only girl I really ever knew, the only one I ever had a chance to know. The family group above rose to go. His mother, the last to rise suddenly knelt down again, put her lips to his name in the stone, and burst into tears.

Joe: Mama... mama — The cemetery guard closed the gates behind the last departing visitor. Memorial Day was over. A meadowlark, hidden in the darsilent camp, king grass, sang a requiem to a

Desperado Kills Two in Freedom Bid

TOLEDO, O. — (UP) — A desperado shot a sheriff's deputy to death today and killed an X-ray technician helping a blind man across a street in a wild bid for freedom.

Sheriff's Deputy Ray Westover was shot fatally when he and state highway patrolman Robert Newell tried to arrest the gunman and his two companions at a roadblock.

Newell in an exchange of gunfire with the three Negroes, wounded one of them in the neck. The gunman, leaving his two companions behind, jumped back into his auto after shooting Westover and headed west along route

Officers said that when the gunman reached a second roadblock, he tried to turn the car, lost control and it struck and killed Ann Martin, 19, (304 Taylor), an X-ray technician at St. Charles hospital, and critically injured Jay Francis, 31, a blind man whom Miss Martin was helping into her auto. Francis worked with Miss Martin in the X-ray department of the hospital.

After striking the couple, officers arrested the driver of the auto, identified as John Bowens, 35, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Arrested at the first roadblock and taken to city prison were men who gave their names as Walter Bryant, 32, New York, City and Philip Powell, 24 Philadelphia.

Twice as many people are ill during March as during July.

Says Caudle Reluctant to Prosecute

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A Federal District Court jury was told today that T. Lamar Caudle, former head of the Justice Department's tax division, was "very reluctant" to prosecute tax evader Irving Sachs, who suffered from epilepsy.

The testimony was by Turner L. Smith, who was Caudle's first assistant in the tax division.

"Mr. Caudle said he was very reluctant to prosecute Mr. Sachs as he felt it might kill him and he didn't want to be a party to it," Smith testified. "He expressed himself deeply and with great feeling."

"So that the jury will understand my position and not be mis-

Sen. Symington (D-Mo) for his running mate.

The plan, Gathings said, "will run counter to an all-out effort on the part of the progressive and left-wing elements of the party in the North and East to head the ticket with Gov. Harriman of New York."

Gathings, in a "news letter," said there apparently is feeling Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver will show strength in early ballots at the Chicago convention but neither would have sufficient votes for victory.

led, I want them to know what I entertained a growing concern myself."

Caudle and Matthew J. Connelley, White House appointments secretary in the Truman administration, are on trial on a charge of conspiring to defraud the government by fixing the Sachs case.

Sachs eventually pleaded guilty and was fined $40,000 in 1951 but was not given a prison sentence because of the question of his health.

The government introduced evidence to show the late Drake Watson, who was U. S. attorney at St. Louis at the time, wrote Caudle he was puzzled by efforts of Sachs to avoid prosecution on health grounds before he exhausted legal steps.

Smith testified Caudle did not request an investigation on the information supplied by Watson.

A mistrial was declared yesterday in the case of Harry J. Schwimmer, a Sachs attorney who became ill in the courtroom last week.

Federal Judge Ruben M. Hulen overruled motions for a mistrial for Caudle and Connelley.

UA Leases Hotel in Fayetteville

FAYETTEVILLE (AP) — The Washington Hotel here will be leased by the University of Arkansas to provide housing for 100 freshman women in September, Dr. Lewis H. Rohrbach announced today.

Rohrbach, university vice president and provost, said the additional housing was necessary because of the "constantly increasing number of women students who desire to come to the university."

The 3-story hotel, on the southwest corner of the square in downtown Fayetteville, will be leased from the Fulbright Investment Co., which owns the building, he said. Details of the lease were not announced.

Rohrbach said the university will utilize all but a small portion of the hotel which is scheduled to be converted into offices for radio station KGRH and Trans-Video of Arkansas, a firm which supplies the area with television via cable.

The hotel, which has operated since the mid 1900s, was redecorated about three years ago. It is located about 10 blocks from the university campus.

Thought For The Day

Novels may teach us as whole some a moral as the pulpit. There are "sermons in stones," in healthy books, and "good in everything." -Colten said it.

Three El Cerrito Students Win Tours Of Europe

(This story appeared in the Oakland Tribune, Friday, March 23, 1956.)

Three El Cerrito High School students will visit Europe this summer under the international scholarship program of the American Field Service.

The three are: Nancy Dougery, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Dougery of 182 Kenyon Ave., Kensington; Eural Bell, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eural Bell of 717 38th St., Oakland; Fred Bauer, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Bauer of 821 Coventry Road, Kensington.

They will leave El Cerrito late in June and return in mid-September.

The trio was chosen in competition with 1,200 students from throughout the nation.

All are juniors chosen from that class so they will have a year in school following their return to share their experiences.

Participants are chosen on the basis of the impression they will make abroad, their ability to adapt to living with foreign families and their ability to contribute to the AFS program of carrying American ideals on a personal level from family to family.

We are very proud of Eural Bell. He was born in Hope, and attended school here until his family moved to California. His mother is the former Miss Effie Mae Wright, the daughter of Mr. S. E. Wright and the late Mrs. Zetta Wright. His father is the brother of Mrs. Effie G. George of this city.

State Rally Successful

Success crowned the efforts of the members of Rising Star Baptist Church when on Sunday, May 27, a spacious dining room and well equipped kitchen were opened for use. This new building will also accommodate a part of the Educational program of the church.

To support the building project, the church engaged in a "State Rally" which closed Sunday afternoon. A total of $854.07 was raised. Mrs. Lillie Bell Logan, representing Arizona, raised 146.66, and was crowned "Queen of the States."

The pastor, Rev. Wm. Erby and the members of Rising Star are very grateful to all who in any way contributed to the success of their efforts.

Miss Verna Scott Receives BS Degree

Mrs. Clem Dixon and daughter attended the 81st Commencement Exercises of AMN College, Pine Bluff, Tuesday, May 22, at which time Mrs. Verna Scott received the BS degree.

Miss Scott was honored at a reception in the home of her sister, Mrs. Clem Dixon of Blevins. She received many beautiful gifts.

Kiosks at the affair: Mrs. Ruby Faye Osborne and Mrs. Cassie Mae McGill.

Nixon Nearly Perfect Against Leading Yanks

BY ED WILKS
Of The Associated Press

Last season, when Willard Nixon was the only pitcher to beat the New York Yankees four times, Manager Casey Stengel observed, "We gotta find out something about that fella." Yesterday, the Yankees found out they "gotta find out something" more about the Boston right-hander.

Stengel's champions finally got to Nixon late last season, beating him the last two times they met. And right off he bat this spring, they put him under the showers after five innings the first time they faced him.

Nixon got the Yankees squared away again yesterday. He almost had "you" wrapped up in the first perfect game since 1922, retiring the first 20 men he faced. Then all sorts of things happened and he had to settle for a 7-3 decision and a three-hitter.

The defeat sent New York into today's Memorial Day double-header bill with Washington four games ahead of second - place Cleveland, which was idle, in the American League. Chicago's White Sox, in fourth, picked up a game by banging Kansas City 7-4 in 12 innings. Washington beat Baltimore 6-5.

In the National, Don Newcombe put an end to Dale Long's home run streak and Pittsburgh's four-game winning streak as the Brooklyn Dodgers broke out for a 10-1 decision. Cincinnati defeated Chicago 10-4, with Gus Bell hammering three home runs and two singles for seven runs batted in, in the only other game scheduled.

Newcombe, winning his seventh in 10 decisions, also smacked a three-run double and a single as part of 14 - hit support by the Brooks for his seven-hit pitching. Bell's perfect day was just about the whole story for the Redlegs, who also had a homer from Ed Bailey. Brooks Lawrence was the winner, padding his perfect record to 8-0. Sam Jones was the loser.

Rain delayed the White Sox's winning rally for 75 minutes at Kansas City. An error scored the cago had blown a 4-2 lead in the ninth. Losing reliever Ed Bertschy also looked home a run in the three-run 12th, in which the Sox scored three with but one hit. Fred Hatfield's bunt single.
